

ALL CLOUDS WILL ROLL AWAY TONIGHT SAYS CHAIRMAN ELTING

Bridge Protest Meeting, Well Attended, Adopts Resolution To Spur on Supervisors—Course of Committee In Waiting Until Eleventh Hour Defended by Elting Who Says Greene Could Have Signed Anyway.

Resolutions calling upon the county board of supervisors to take immediate action in securing the necessary right of way for the Rondout creek bridge were adopted Tuesday night at the joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and The Automobile Club of Ulster County held in the Y. M. C. A. The adoption of the resolution followed by speeches giving the history of the bridge and the promise of Philip Elting, chairman of the Republican county committee that tonight "the clouds will roll away" and "everything will be lovely."

The meeting was very largely attended not only by interested persons of this city but by delegations from Esopus who came to find out the why and wherefore about the bridge.

Charles R. O'Connor, president of the Chamber of Commerce called the meeting to order, but immediately turned it over to Elva H. Bogart, representing the Automobile Club.

In stating the purpose of the meeting, Mr. Bogart said that every one knew the history of the bridge from the time of its inception when Assemblyman Andrew J. Cook introduced the bill providing for funds for the erection of the bridge up to the present time. Something happened all along the line, said Mr. Bogart, the various phases reminding him of a cartoon he had once seen depicting the famous Tweed ring with each member pointing his thumb to "the next fellow."

"We have never been able to place the real objection to the construction of the bridge," continued Mr. Bogart. "The fact remains that something happened from time to time to hold up the bridge brought about by somebody and it is about time to call a halt and see if something can be done. I do not propose to accuse anybody of anything. I believe that certain officials of the county are entitled to praise for looking after the consummation of the plan. Senator Walton has done everything in his power to have the bridge constructed, and Assemblyman Van Wagenen has done everything in his power. Certain officials of the board of supervisors up to the present time, and I don't believe they will stop now, have also worked hard. The desire of the people of Ulster county is to see the bridge built and built now. We don't care how it is built or who builds it."

In closing Mr. Bogart reminded his hearers of the thousands of dollars that could have been saved had the bridge been built ten years ago when material and labor was considerably lower than at the present time.

A. W. Hoffman of The Freeman, the first speaker called on by Chairman Bogart, outlined the history of bridge agitation, legislation and disappointments, asserting that there was no glory in it for either political party. He stated in opening that a great many toes would be trodden on in the course of his speech and proceeded to make good, reciting facts familiar to all readers of the newspaper.

The chairman then called upon Philip Elting to express his views on the bridge situation.

Mr. Elting said that he had come to the meeting to listen and not to talk, as his efforts were always directed toward producing and not criticizing.

"It is true," said he, "that for the past sixteen years I have been chairman of a political organization in this county. I believe in party government, because I believe a party should be held responsible for its acts, so that if one party does not make good it can be voted out and another party voted in. As I grow old I feel I can look back with considerable pride on the government this county has had for the past sixteen years."

Mr. Elting then went on to explain the origin of the state highway system leading up to the time when at his instance a bill was introduced in the state legislature by Assemblyman Cook changing Route 2 from Newburgh through Edenville and thus save this city to the road through Port Ewen to the Rondout creek, and providing for a suitable bridge to cross the creek. Mr. Elting said that then and at all other times he had done everything in his power to have the bridge built. He then told how C. Gordon Reed, then commissioner of highways, had plans prepared for a draw bridge so as to bring the Rondout creek in a tide water stream in the immediate vicinity of the city.

Mr. Elting said that the plan was to build a two span bridge with spans of 100 feet each, and a 200 foot span in the middle. Island dock. The county, said Mr. Elting, acquired property for this plan, purchasing the Wetterhan property and the lot next door. Easements were also secured for this plan from the Erie railroad and the Kingston & Delaware Valley railroad. In securing easements property is not purchased but merely permission to cross is secured. Following this, explained Mr. Elting, bids were advertised for, but they were far over the estimate. Then $139,000 additional was appropriated and bids were again advertised for. This time there were no bidders. Commissioner Duffey was then urged to begin building piers.

After the war it was decided to advertise for bids again for the building of the bridge, but in the meantime Mr. Duffey's term expired and Mr. Greene was appointed. The Duffey plans were thrown overboard and Mr. Greene had plans prepared for a bridge almost identical with that planned by Commissioner Carlile.

These plans, explained Mr. Elting, were sent here for the purpose of securing takings, but nothing was done with them because the Carlile bridge was impossible to build and therefore this one would be also. Mr. Greene later discovered this and then planned a suspension bridge.

Mr. Elting said that the county had been accused of being slow in securing the necessary right of way, but that in any suit 20 days were given to make answer. The board, he explained, had until April 1, and there was no reason why they should not take until then, or words to that effect.

"The county board," said he, "meets tomorrow night, when all these clouds will roll away. I challenge anyone to produce one instance or prove where any single public official of Ulster county has ever thrown a monkey wrench into the works from the beginning to the end. They have done everything in their utmost official capacity in this work. We are all for it. Why shouldn't we be. There has been entirely too much publicity about it. The county is doing business the same as anyone else, and we have until April 1. All in all, it's my way and everything is lovely."

Mr. Elting also explained that according to the statutes it was not necessary for the right of way to be secured before the contracts could be signed by the highway commissioner, and that he had known of contracts being signed prior to the securing of the right of way, but he added that the commissioner did not deem it advisable to do this.

Mr. Elting was asked by a resident of Esopus why, when the supervisors had the plans of the bridge since January 28, some action was not started toward securing the necessary right of way as a good business man would have done instead of leaving it until the last day.

To this Mr. Elting answered that the board had until April 1. He said that one of the owners had been in Miami and that they had sent the money to him some time ago. He returned to town Saturday.

Another question asked was whether or not the Huhne property at the foot of Wurts street had been secured.

Mr. Elting said that the Huhne property was not necessary, but that Commissioner Greene recommended a wider entrance and that the supervisors had therefore secured an option on the property.

Mr. Elting reminded the inquirer and all others present that the meeting was not the board, but that he knew the option had been acquired. "I know these things have been done," said he, "but they have to be approved by the board, and you cannot make them do it, and neither can I."

The following resolutions were offered by Thomas W. Flemming and carried:

Whereas, the construction of the proposed bridge across the Rondout creek is a matter of the greatest importance to the city of Kingston, the county of Ulster and the state of New York;

Whereas, the preliminary steps, except the purchase of the right of way, necessary to its construction have been completed by the highway department;

Whereas, the duty of acquiring such right of way devolves upon the board of supervisors of Ulster county; therefore be it

Resolved, that it is the sense of this meeting that public interest of this city and of this county demands the immediate construction of said bridge, and that the board of supervisors should take immediate action necessary to acquire the right of way and be it further

Resolved, that a committee be appointed by the chair to present this resolution to the board of supervisors at the special meeting to be called for the consideration of this matter.

The chairman named Mr. Elting as the first member of the committee but Mr. Elting declined, saying that he was doing all he could for the bridge now.

AUTO SHOW BUT ONE WEEK AWAY

All roads will lead to the armory one week from Thursday when the big automobile show of the Kingston automobile dealers will open there for a three days' show. The show will be officially opened Thursday evening, April 8, when Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo will be present and deliver an address. The doors will be opened during the afternoon of the last two days, April 9 and 10, and, of course, there will be a crowd each evening.

On account of the dance which will be held on the night preceding the opening date it will be impossible for the dealers to get their booths in shape and their cars in place for an afternoon session on the opening day, but everything will be in readiness by evening. Both afternoon and evening there will be entertainment and an orchestra will furnish music.

That the show this year will be the best ever put on in Kingston is an undisputed fact. The dealers of the city are co-operating in every way to make the show the largest ever held and more cars than ever before will be on display. The show coming late in the season gives ample time to secure the latest models of cars for exhibition and most of the dealers already have secured cars for the show.

Then beside the exhibitors of cars there will be the accessory men who will have booths where all sorts of necessities and comforts for car owners will be shown.

The entire floor space of the drill shed has been laid off in spaces and every one of the spaces have been taken by the various dealers and agents.

Trucks, although not shown on the floor with the pleasure cars, will be there in force. The dealers in trucks will, as usual, have models on exhibition outside the armory.

With a week in which to complete the few remaining details there is no doubt but that the Kingston Automobile show for 1920 will be the biggest and the best yet held.

CARDINAL AMETTE ANSWERS CRITICS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, March 31.—Cardinal Amette has hit back at the critics who went after him when he issued his recent ukase against modern dances and modern dress.

Summed up the contention of the critics was: "What does his eminence know about it? He never attended a ball, so what could he know about the dances and the women's dresses?"

The Cardinal was not in a position to visit Paris ball rooms or dance halls. So he delegated to the Marquis de Moustier, one of the recognized leaders of the Parisian "409," the task of making the investigation for him. The Marquis carried out his instructions to the letter. Now the Cardinal has made public the Marquis's comment.

"My investigation convinces me that the fox trot and tango are improper. They simply cannot be danced properly. They should not be danced at all in a gathering that pretends to be respectable. The two-step is less objectionable, but very awkward."

The Cardinal will shortly have another report ready on modern dress. This investigation was carried out by a society woman and because of her delicate task he has not been revealed. She is said, however, to occupy a position fully as high as that of the marquis.

N. Y. POLICEMAN KILLS BANDIT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 31.—An unidentified taxi bandit was shot and killed early today by Patrolman Marling while fleeing from the scene of a robbery. The dead man, 15 years old, with four companions grabbed two bags of bread and a can of milk from in front of a grocery store and fled in the taxicab as Marling approached. He fired two shots at the disappearing machine. An hour later another patrolman found the taxicab deserted a mile away and investigation disclosed the dead body of the bandit in the tonneau of the car.

London, March 31.—General Denikin, whose army in South Russia was defeated by the Bolsheviks, fled into the Black Sea on a ship after the loss of his last base at Novorossiysk, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Constantinople today. Other boats carried 2,000 volunteers. All were under Bolshevik fire as they departed.

THE TISSUE CO. WORKERS STRIKE

About 200 employees of The Tissue Company at Saugerties quit work at 9 o'clock this morning, declaring they would not return until they were granted an 8-hour day. They have been working nine hours heretofore.

Martin Cantline is said to be the largest stockholder in the concern which has the new strike on its hands following the settlement of the trouble with the workers of the Martin Cantline Company about two weeks ago.

No demand for increased wages is involved in this morning's walkout.

REPUBLICANS HAVE THE CALL

Six Presidential Aspirants Have Headquarters in New York But No Democrats Are Among Them—Wood's Organization Largest With Many Boosting Hoover.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 31.—If there be any truth in that ancient copy-book maxim that success always pursues the industrious then the returns for 1920 are already as good as in. And there is a decided Republican tinge to them.

The Republicans have a corner on all the industry in the east politically. There are in New York today no less than six Republican organizations working energetically and industriously for the election of a Republican president in 1920. They range in size all the way from occupying an entire floor in one of the large, modern office buildings clear down to and including a pair of rooms tucked away in a hotel corridor.

Against this formidable array of Republican activity in New York, the Democrats are exhibiting a large round O. They are doing nothing.

Not one of the half dozen potential Democratic presidential possibilities has opened headquarters, put out feelers or hired a press agent. And a candidate without a press agent today is the eighth wonder of the world. In some of these headquarters in New York the press agents have secretaries.

The most pretentious organization here is that of Major-General Leonard Wood's eastern headquarters. His national headquarters are in Chicago. Wood's forces occupy a great number of rooms on two floors of the Imperial Hotel, almost a wing of the hotel, and his personnel will run close to thirty.

Herbert Hoover's organization is so variegated that in the aggregate it is almost as large as that of Wood. Hoover movements are housed in four New York hotels—the Hoover National Republican Club in the Vanderbilt with a dozen or so rooms and working personnel of about twenty, and district organizations, co-operating with the main body, in the Manhattan, Ansonia and Belvedere.

Senator Hiram Johnson of California has an unpretentious suite of two rooms in the Pennsylvania with a staff of three people.

Pershing's headquarters are located in a suite of two rooms in the Baltimore under the direction of the Wood Brothers of Nebraska.

At the Commodore is located the very modest boom of Nicholas Murray Butler. There is little there but a typewriter.

Up in 44th street, Republican national committee headquarters, marks time in spacious quarters until the committee provides a candidate to work on. A force of approximately 100 people comprise its personnel, all waiting for the barrier to go up in Chicago in June.

CHIEF RABBI OF NEW YORK COMING

Abram M. Saffran, chairman of the committee appointed to arrange for a mass meeting to be held under the auspices of the Zionist Organization of America at the Syracuse on West Union street, on Sunday evening, April 11th, has received word from the headquarters of the organization in New York that Rabbi Yudelovitch and Dr. Louis L. Newman would come to Kingston to address the mass meeting.

Rabbi Yudelovitch is the Chief Rabbi of New York and was formerly Chief Rabbi of Boston. He is a man of great distinction and is considered an orator of extraordinary ability. Dr. Newman is an associate of Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Rabbi Wise is vice president of the Zionist organization. Several local speakers have promised Mr. Saffran that they would address the meeting, and arrangements for a musical program have also been made. The committee therefore feels that according to indications the mass meeting will be a complete success.

JUDGES DIVIDED OVER SOCIALISTS

Vote in Assembly on Disbarment and Outlawing of Party, Not Likely Today, Will Be Close With Chances Now Favoring Sweet Ouster Program.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., March 31.—Sitting as a court of last review from whose decision there is no appeal, the New York assembly started in today to settle once and for all the status of Socialism in this state.

The entire assembly of 145 members is prepared to decide by ballot whether five of its Socialist members are fit to sit in the councils of the state, or whether they are "perpetual traitors" to their country, as charged by the majority of the judiciary committee which conducted a three months' investigation of them.

Upon the assembly's decision hangs the fate of the Socialist party in New York. If the assembly votes to oust the five Socialists, then the Socialist party becomes outlawed at the polls and is denied the privileges of being a party. Membership therein is tantamount to membership in the Communist party, the I. W. W. and societies of anarchy.

If the assembly decides to give the five their seat, then the Socialist party is exonerated of the charge of being a "traitorous body" and can place its candidates on the voting lists just the same as the Republican or Democratic party.

It is not likely that a vote can be reached today. When the assembly met the majority report of the assembly committee—recommending the outlawing of the Socialist party—came up as a special order of business and debate on it promised to be lengthy.

The all engrossing question in Albany today was whether Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet who originated the action against the Socialists, could muster enough votes to swing their disbarment. The general opinion was that Sweet would be upheld and the Socialists barred by a small majority. An informal poll of the assembly was said to have showed 90 of the 145 members in favor of "kicking them out."

There has been, however, a decided change in opinion since the movement started. Sweet was able to muster but a bare majority in the judiciary committee, whereas when the action originated all but two of the entire assembly voted to suspend the Socialists on their motion.

Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's announcement that he could not vote for the "outlawing of a political party" was adopted by many among them. Majority Leader Simon Adler of Rochester, who wrote the original ouster resolution.

DANISH POLITICS IN TURMOIL

Large Part of People Determined to Compel King Christian to Reinstate Zable Cabinet—Soldiers and Crowds in Slight Clashes—General Strike Feared.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, March 31.—Agitations for a Danish republic continued throughout the night in Copenhagen, accompanied by slight encounters between soldiers in the crowds, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from the Danish cabinet today.

The new Danish ministry headed by Premier Liebsat all night while crowds paraded the streets and Republican agitators made speeches. Anxiety prevails over the threat of the workers to call a general strike to protest against the dismissal of the Zable cabinet.

The Central News correspondent at Copenhagen reports that the co-operative unionists have sent telegrams throughout Denmark calling a meeting of leaders this afternoon to consider plans for a nation-wide strike. The syndicalists are said to be opposing a strike "in order to reinstate political frauds."

A movement has been started to coöperate the Danish political parties in an effort to avert the threatened strike.

The sensational charge that the dowager empress of Russia influenced King Christian X in his political course was made by the newspaper Politiken of Copenhagen. This was answered by the conservatives and Democrats, who issued a statement declaring that the king did not act constitutionally in dismissing the old cabinet.

"The political situation in Denmark is chaotic," telegraphed the Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Express.

"In anticipation of a general strike there is a great run on provision shops. The new cabinet is planning to dissolve the Folketing (lower house of parliament). The government hopes that new elections will break the conservatives a majority which will consent to a scheme to bring Pleschke, and the rest of the second wave of Schleswig under British control instead of German. The troops are ordered to their barracks while the Socialists are warning the populace against violence."

The new Danish cabinet has made public a resolution that it will remain in power only until the people can express their will through a general election.

AMENDMENTS TO CITY CHARTER

Introduced by Senator Walton Would Let Common Council Create New Offices to Be Filled by Mayor—What Their Duties Would Be.

Amendments to the city charter were introduced in the legislature by Senator Walton yesterday and went to the third reading. The amendments confer the power upon the common council to create the office of city comptroller and the office of a purchasing agent to be known as the commissioner of contract and supply. In the event that the common council should exercise its authority to create such office the mayor is given the power to make the appointment.

Nearly every city has a comptroller. He exercises the function of a centralized bookkeeper and fiscal officer. It is not expected to add much extra expense because it will eliminate much of the bookkeeping and clerical work in many departments and bring it into one system and under one control. The act provides that the comptroller shall maintain and supervise the maintenance of the accounting records of the fiscal transactions of the city, and shall keep a separate account with every department and with each improvement. Every claim against the city would have to be verified and approved by the auditing committee of the department and the officer whose action gave rise to the claim and be audited by the comptroller. In case the claimant should be dissatisfied with the audit he could appeal to the common council. The comptroller would keep an account between the city and the treasurer and of all moneys received and disbursed by the treasurer. He would also examine the treasurer's books and ascertain as to their correctness and render a quarterly detailed report to the mayor and common council of the funds and financial condition of the city, and within sixty days after the close of each fiscal year, prepare and publish in book or pamphlet form a full and accurate verified statement showing receipts and disbursements of the year and the indebtedness at the close of the year. He would also sell the bonds of the city.

The amendment as to a commissioner of contract and supply provides for the letting of all contracts by him of any work or for the supply of any material required by or for the use of any officer or department, except for municipal lighting and except work done by any department other than by contract in all cases where it exceeds two hundred and fifty dollars other than in cases of emergency as outlined therein. No contract can be let except after the receipt of sealed bids. It provides for the requisition of the officer or department requiring the work or materials, after which the commissioner prepares specifications and obtains sealed bids to be opened at a designated time.

The purpose of such a commissioner or purchasing agent is to make contracts and purchases for work and materials for the various city departments. At the present time about ten different departments purchase their own respective supplies independently of each other. The object of creating a purchasing department is to standardize methods of purchasing and unite purchases and place some one in charge who would and could make a study of the best methods to secure the necessary materials most economically. It is said the total purchases of materials amount to nearly $100,000, and it is expected that such a commissioner would earn much more than the cost of his office.

DEL. SUFFRAGE PROSPECT BRIGHT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Dover, Del., March 31.—There was every indication that women suffrage in the United States would be an accomplished fact before night when the lower house of the Delaware legislature convened today. The leaders of the "antis" were reported to have surrendered, insuring victory for the suffrage amendment. As the amendment already has a majority in its favor in the state senate and Governor Townsend has announced that he would pass the measure as soon as it was passed, the whole fight hinged upon the action of the house of representatives.

The final success of Republicanism was held during the morning just before the house convened. Great numbers of suffrage workers were in Dover from all parts of the United States, ending in the drive to put the suffrage into the constitution through the ratification of Delaware—the thirty-ninth state.

TUG HARTT IS FIRST TO OPEN NAVIGATION

Left Rondout Creek for Newburgh This Morning—Towing Season Planned to Open Saturday—Homer Ramsdell Leaves Thursday—River Now Open.

The continued warm weather has finally opened the Hudson river to navigation, and today there was hardly any firm ice to be found in the river for almost the entire length between Albany and New York. The first boat to open the navigation season between Kingston and Newburgh was the Cornell line tug Hartt, which left Rondout creek shortly before noon. The river is open between here and Newburgh and the Hartt will have no difficulty in getting through.

The Central-Hudson line will inaugurate the navigation season between Kingston and New York Thursday morning, when the Homer Ramsdell will leave here at 7 o'clock for New York. The Ramsdell has been berthed in the Rondout creek all winter and has been placed in excellent shape for the season.

The Cornell Steamboat Company is planning to open the towing season Saturday, when a tow will leave New York for Kingston. Weather conditions being favorable Monday, a tow will leave Kingston for New York.

The Hartt, which is the first boat through for the season, will await orders at Newburgh, and it is likely will be used to take a tow from that city for down river points.

The river between here and Albany is practically open but there is reported to be more floating ice above Kingston than below.

REV. L. A. FERRIS IS UNDER ARREST

Former Pastor of Port Ewen M. E. Church Is Charged With Criminal Libel in San Diego—Member New York Conference For Four Years.

The Rev. Lincoln A. Ferris, a former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Port Ewen, is under arrest in San Diego, Cal., on a charge of criminal libel, according to a lengthy article in a recent issue of The San Diego Union.

Rev. Ferris is charged with publishing a pamphlet in which a vicious and untruthful attack is made on John D. Spreckles, the complainant. The title of the pamphlet was "Clean Up San Diego, Series No. 1," and in it Mr. Spreckles was accused of being the owner of a race track ground and of being associated with a "bawdy prison gang." Rev. Ferris' arrest followed the testimony of J. P. McDonough, also charged with criminal libel by Mr. Spreckles, that Rev. Ferris had "doubled crossed" him, that both his and Rev. Ferris' names were originally on the pamphlet, but that Rev. Ferris had erased his name from the proof. The minister was held in $1,000 bail which he furnished.

Rev. Ferris was pastor of the Port Ewen M. E. Church in 1896. He joined the New York conference in 1894, remaining with it until 1898, after which he became identified with a number of conferences as a star preacher. His father, the Rev. George W. Ferris, was a member of the New York conference for a number of years.

Passion week will be observed by union services in some of the uptown churches. On Thursday evening in the St. James Church, the choir of the Fair Street, First, Dutch and St. James Churches, under the leadership of W. W. On the following evening St. James and the Fair Street Churches will join in a union Communion service in the Fair Street Church.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MARCH 31, 1920.

There would never be any accidents if we could see them coming far enough ahead. As it is we can't and for that reason they come. It will be the same way some day with a crash in prices. The slump will be caused by something unforeseen and something which could not be controlled after the avalanche had started.

The delegates recommended at the Republican convention to attend the national convention in Chicago will occupy first place on the primary ballot. The drawing was done under the supervision of the secretary of state and the opposition was permitted to draw first. This was done so that there could not be even a hint that there had been any favoritism. As the date of the primaries approaches, interest in them increases, and it is apparent that the men and women who want orderly procedure will do their duty in going to the polls and registering their choice.

THE "NEW POOR."

In the nation's pawnshops may no doubt be found much information in regard to its poor, and it is significant to hear of the existence of a "new poor" from American pawnbrokers. In former times their patrons, with the picturesque exceptions of "gentlemen gamblers" and the like, came largely from the working classes, but now all this is greatly changed. The old poor have to a great extent been displaced by a "new poor" who borrow much more heavily. In his annual report the president of the Provident Loan Society says that, although it is impossible to obtain full data on the character of borrowers and their reasons for borrowing, "there are many indications that the workingman who pledges his watch to obtain funds needed by reason of sickness or similar emergency has been supplanted in the line of borrowers by the salaried and professional man who pledges the family jewelry to bridge the gap between income and cost of living necessitated by existing standards." While the poor of former times require less assistance, the "new poor" require more. Last year fewer loans were made than in any year since 1910 but the amount of the loans was "nearly $3,000,000 in excess of any previous year." In 1914 the average loan was $16, in 1915 it was $37, and in 1919 it was $74. In the first quarter of 1919 the monthly average number of borrowers who brought pledges valued between $250 and $500 was less than 1,200, but in the last quarter their numbers increased to more than 2,000 a month, the small borrowers of from $5 to $10 meanwhile decreasing in number. Thus is furnished further evidence that the high cost of living has hard-ened the "middle" or "salaried" classes who must make a "decent" appearance in spite of multiplied expenses and relatively small increase in incomes.

LACKING IN LOGIC.

Whatever admirable qualities may be possessed by Mr. De Valera, "president of the Irish republic," he does not seem to have a logical mind. Confusion of thought is indicated by his recent pronouncements. When the treaty was defeated, chiefly by means of the Gerry reservation demanding freedom for Ireland, Mr. De Valera announced that "Ireland has been given her place among the nations by the greatest nation of them all." He seemed to conclude that now the United States would promptly recognize the Free State element in Ireland, send diplomatic representatives there and receive diplomatic representatives there. Apparently it did not occur to him that before we could do all or any of this we should have to declare war on the British empire and fight that war to a triumphant issue. Nor does he seem to realize that this country is about as much divided in sentiment on Ireland now and that the hope of inducing the majority of Americans to consent to fight the British empire to free Ireland, or the Free State element, is too slim for a case even to give it a thought. Similar confusion of mind appears joining over the Gerry reservation, in which he thanked not only "the noble American nation" but "the heroic dead whose sacrifice made victory possible." The "heroic dead" of America—if they were meant—made their sacrifice in order to free the world from the clutch of military Germany; the "heroic dead" of Ireland—if they were meant—made their sacrifice for the same reason. But Sinn Fein Ireland, which is represented by Mr. De Valera, entered into relations with Germany hostile to the Allied cause, and if the blind Sinn Fein Irish had had their will, Ireland would now be in Germany's pocket together with England and France, and even the United States might today be fighting to escape submission to a German overlord.

HOOVER APPROVES LUTHERAN WORK

Mr. Hoover calls the reconstruction work carried on by the Lutherans of America "a really important and lasting contact between America and that part of Europe which is in sore need."

The statement is contained in a letter just received by Dr. Lauritz Larsen of New York, secretary of the National Lutheran Council, in connection with the World Service Campaign for $1,800,000, which is being organized throughout the Lutheran Church of America at present.

The letter reads as follows: "The relief and reconstruction program laid out by the National Lutheran Council represents, in my mind, a really important and lasting contact between America and that part of Europe which is in sore need. My experience fully confirms your own belief that the carrying out of humanitarian work of this character will do more than to relieve today the situation in Europe. It will also help our own people to a better understanding of human obligations."

"The reports which come to me from Central Europe are unanimous as to the needs. Most pressing are the demands for clothing. In the last five years practically no new clothing has been manufactured over there and old stocks are exhausted. What remains for the people generally are rags and patches. In certain districts, such as Eastern Poland, the problem of shelter is also serious, and with the constant increase of refugees who filter across the border from Russia this matter will become still more serious."

"The problem of reconstruction requires a longer look into the future. It raises a multitude of questions relating to the re-establishment of industries and the rehabilitation of agriculture. It must be concerned with the literal reclamation of great areas of land laid waste by war."

"In this aspect, your council's program seeks to establish a relationship of helpfulness that will reflect credit upon America. It must be conceded that once decided upon such a program should be carried through."

"I need not say that you have my personal good wishes in the effort you are making to raise the funds necessary in this work."

50 SCUDDERS MISSIONARIES

That it is possible for a young man who was born in India, whose father was born in India and whose grandfather was born in Ceylon, to be an American citizen without being naturalized has just been proved by Dr. Galen F. Scudder, a young Princeton man and veteran of the great war. Dr. Scudder was able to show that his great-grandfather was American born, that he had gone to India and begun work as the pioneer medical missionary exactly 100 years ago, and that forty-eight Scudders have followed in his footsteps. The government has accepted his credentials and he has celebrated this centenary of medical missions by going to take charge of the Scudder Memorial Hospital in India. Associated with him are two others of the fourth generation of Dr. John's descendants.

In spite of the fact that he had visited four times in the United States and in two states, and had been commissioned a lieutenant in the A. E. F., Dr. Scudder nearly missed his boat while waiting for the government to accept the proof presented to substantiate his claim to American citizenship. And to satisfy the government for which he had fought he had to go back to the record of vital statistics of Freehold, N. J., for September, 1783. And yet he cannot blame the government, and doesn't. The revised statutes are very explicit.

The history of foreign missions presents no greater romance than that which is contributed by the story of Dr. John Scudder and his devoted wife, and the forty-eight Scudders who have followed in the short span of a single century the trail which he blazed. Were it not for the fact that not by any stretch of the imagination could Dr. John Scudder be compared with a little acorn, one would be tempted to quote the proverb of the acorn and the oak. Dr. John was himself the original great oak. Educated in medicine and showing "a very devotional and benevolent spirit," he was the very man for the place when the American Board of Missions advertised for "a pious physician." His young wife helped him make his decision and although his father disowned him Dr. Scudder began his work in 1820. Later he studied theology and was ordained to preach, thus becoming the first medical missionary in history. It is significant that of the forty-eight who have followed his example twelve have been trained in medicine.

Of Dr. John's seven sons who grew to manhood all were trained both for the ministry and for the practice of medicine. Down through the succeeding generations the missionary spirit has been kept burning. There has been a great change in the attitude of Christian countries toward the non-Christian parts of the world since Dr. John wrote in his journal: "It is a most mournful consideration that so little is done for the cause of missions. Can it be that the present state of things is to continue?"

The forty-eight Scudders have been only a few in the thousands whose service has proved that "the present state of things" was not to continue. At present there are approximately 1,100 medical missionaries alone in various parts of the non-Christian world. But they are not enough. The Interchurch World Movement can place 665 more this year and still leave the field scantily filled.

Under the direction of a representative committee, celebration of the centenary of medical missions is being featured by an appeal to the physicians and nurses who served overseas, to recent graduates of medical schools and those who are about to be graduated, and to all others who are trained for the work, to follow the example of the three young Scudders, a young man and two young women, who have gone out within a few months. It is estimated that those who have gone before them will have given 1,000 years of missionary service.

HERBERT WARNED

That New General Strike Will Follow Sending of Troops to Ruhr.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Berlin, March 31.—Organized labor has united with three factions of the Socialist parties in warning the government that another general strike will be proclaimed if the reichswehr (government forces) are sent into the Ruhr district against the Spartacists. Despite this warning, the government today went ahead with its plans for military action against the Reds in western Prussia. Government officials expressed confidence that order could be restored in the Ruhr district within three weeks, the time allotted by France for German government action without interference from French troops.

Roller Skaters A Problem.

The roller skating craze among the boys and girls has broken out to such an extent on Fair street, between corner of Main and John street, that business men and pedestrians were forced to complain to the police to stop the children. On Saturday last an old lady was knocked down by one of the skaters near the Kingston Trust Company and several people have been run into. At times over fifty skaters monopolized the sidewalk after school hours. The sidewalk around the central post office has also been made a favorite roller skating rink by the youngsters. It has been suggested that the board of public works construct a block of white away from public travel for a roller skating park for the boys and girls.

After Whooping Cough—What?

This is No. 4 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vicks' Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Whooping cough is the "meanest" disease that childhood is heir to. While rarely fatal in itself, except to children under two years of age, still it hangs on so long—the coughing paroxysms are so violent, preventing proper sleep and digestion—that when the disease does disappear it leaves the child weakened and run down. In addition the violent coughing racks and strains the air passages and after recovery this irritation frequently remains.

During this period of convalescence the child should be most carefully watched until full strength is restored and the air passages regain their normal tone. A prominent authority even goes so far as to say—"There is more criminal neglect in connection with whooping cough than with any other disease."

While the disease is active, Vicks' VapoRub usually helps to lessen the violence of the coughing, but it is during convalescence that Vicks is most valuable.

Because Vicks acts locally by stimulating thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying swallow a small bit the size of a pea.

Children's digestions are delicate—easily disturbed by too much "dosing." Vicks, therefore, is particularly recommended, since it is externally applied and so can be used often and freely without the slightest harmful effects.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vicks Chemical Company, 234 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

K. OF C. STUDENTS BACK TEACHERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, March 31.—The attitude of the men and women who served in the World War regarding the poor pay received by teachers throughout the United States was forcibly emphasized here today when some 10,000 students of the Knights of Columbus free evening schools for demobilized service men and women signed a petition requesting the state legislature to give serious consideration to certain legislation now before that body.

No better justification for the action of the students could be brought forward than the amazing fact that in several of the Spanish, French and commercial classes of the schools men and women who are public school teachers during the day sit side by side with the evening students. Another phase of the matter which gave spontaneity to the feelings of the ex-service men and women developed through the appearance of many public school teachers and principals in a like capacity at the K. of C. schools. The petition calls on all the senators and legislators at Albany to vote the present state wide bills which all the fifty societies of teachers and school authorities have acquiesced in.

A recent survey of K. of C. and other evening schools showed that several hundred men and women school teachers have taken up secretarial courses, languages, commercial law and ethics and other studies with an idea of abandoning the profession of teaching.

The turmoil among the teaching profession over low wages is the most active of the many disruptions which appear to be focusing among employees classed in "the white collar" degree. Throughout this state the various teachers and principals societies have dropped all disgruntlements, united and are now a unit in commanding any laws which may remedy their present sad condition as far as the pay envelope is concerned.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Scream in the Night" a Thriller—George Walsh at Keene's.

"The Shark," a great photoplay of the sea, featuring George Walsh, will be presented at Keene's tonight. The story tells how a human "beast of the sea" is tamed by his love for a helpless girl. Many of the intensely interesting scenes take place on shipboard. They show the tremendous power of a man who ruled his crew by brute force and to whom a human life was nothing. It is said that George Walsh surpasses himself in the daring "stunts" he accomplishes in this action thriller. Also programmed, Literary Digest, Gaumont News, Pathe Review and Mutt and Jeff cartoon. Tomorrow and Friday Geraldine Farrar in "The Flame of the Desert."

"A Scream in the Night" opened to a delighted audience at the Opera House yesterday and will be continued again tonight. This photoplay is one of the best dramatic offerings of the season and is a compelling story of a scientist who tries to demonstrate the Darwinian theory feasible. It is crammed full of action and thrills and a treat you'll enjoy. Tomorrow only Tom Mix in "The Feud."

The Auditorium will offer tonight popular Tom Moore "The City of Comrades," an elaborate production of Basil King's Saturday Evening Post story. It is unlike any photoplay you have ever seen before. It depicts the "Love of Humanity" in all its passions, sorrows and happiness and thrills you in its vivid proof that a man may me down, but he's never out. A Charlie Chaplin comedy and Current News events are added features. Tomorrow Wallace Reid in "The Love Bugar."

SINN FEIN HAS DEATH TRIBUNAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, March 31.—A "death tribunal" has been established by the Sinn Fein in Ireland to punish members for "unworthy conduct" and seven, including the late Lord Thomas McCurtain, of Cork, already have been sentenced to death, according to the Daily Mail and the London Times.

"Women fanatics are co-operating," said the Daily Mail in its exposure.

Lord Mayor McCurtain, Professor Stockley and five other prominent Sinn Fein leaders were expelled from the republican organization and marked for death at a secret meeting of the "extremists" at Cork on March 19, the Daily Mail says.

Lord Mayor McCurtain was shot to death in his home at Cork on the morning of March 21. Professor Stockley was shot at four times. Later an unidentified man was found shot to death near Newcastle West. This victim, according to the Daily Mail, was not a spy, but refused to obey Sinn Fein orders.

It is believed, says the Daily Mail, that the death sentences resulted from information secured from a mail wagon bound for Dublin Castle, which was held up in the streets of Dublin, and correspondence addressed to the lord lieutenant seized.

It is alleged by the Daily Mail that Lord Mayor McCurtain had asked the police to arrest him for his own protection, but soldiers who were sent to make the arrest arrived too late.

According to the Times, both Lord Mayor McCurtain and Professor Stockley were present at the secret meeting in Cork when the decree for expulsion and death was passed.

Professor Stockley was shot at immediately after leaving the meeting. There is a discrepancy between the Daily Mail and the Times as to the date of the secret meeting.

While the former newspaper says it was held on the night of March 19, the latter said it was held two nights earlier.

FOR REGULATION OF LIVING COST

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany N. Y. March 31.—Creation of a state cost of living commission with power to recommend wage adjustments based upon living costs was proposed in the legislature Tuesday by Senator E. J. Dowling and Assemblyman Louis A. Culliver of New York city on behalf of the State Federation of Labor.

The measure declares the necessities of life, including food, fuel, clothing, workers' tools and rentals to be public utilities, subject to investigation.

The commission is given power to seek out violators of existing laws, including profiteering and hoarding of necessities.

At the Easter services of the church there will be special music both morning and evening, and the choir and organist will be assisted by Mrs. Florence Wohlfert, Calberley, violinist, and Miss Lillian M. ## When to Smile.

As long as things go well with you, folks, they are cheaper at a basket of chips; but the minute they feel a pinch of hard luck, their faces are as long as a turnip handle. Men with the real stuff in them smile the big, rest when the tug at their hearts is gone.

CHANDLER SIX

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Two Great Chandlers Right Out In Front

HERE are two Chandler Six models which the big and constantly expanding Chandler factory production has never been able to build in volume that could supply the demand of discriminating motor car purchasers. They are the Chandler Six Touring Car and Dispatch Car, the former a big, handsome, roomy, comfortable, real seven-passenger car; and the latter a trim, smaller car, suggestive in its appearance of all the good things of outdoor life. The Dispatch Car has a touch of snappy style in its clean lines, and is strikingly finished in the beautiful Chandler Rainbow Blue. It seats four persons in restful comfort.

Both the Chandler Six Touring and Dispatch Cars are mounted on the same standard Chandler chassis, developed, through seven years of manufacture, to a surpassing point of excellence and famous for its really marvelous motor. The Chandler Car is priced much lower than other cars which may, perhaps, compare with it.

Henry
Blakely
MacLeod.

Henry Blakely MacLeod, twenty years old, the son of Rev. Dr. Malcolm James MacLeod, pastor of the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas, New York, for whom a world-wide search has been conducted for nearly two years, is in the Walter Reed General Hospital for observation, according to a report from Washington. He is being held as a technical deserter from the army. MacLeod enlisted in March, 1915, and was sent to the Forty-ninth Infantry. He preferred the aviation and requested a transfer, which was refused. On June 27, 1918, he dropped from sight, and, according to his own story, he went to Cleveland, where he tried to enlist in the Aviation Corps. He was turned down there and went to Montreal, Canada, and tried to enlist in the Canadian aviation. They wouldn't accept him because he was an American. Then followed two years of wandering about the country. Then General Pershing's aid was invoked in the hunt for young MacLeod. A large number of men, it is said, in the explanation given of his technical desertion. He was later given up as dead.

Real Help

It is the easiest thing in the world to turn a poor fellow off when he comes with a big lump in his heart by saying, "Here's a dollar. Go and have a good time with it." And all the time what he needs is a hand under his arm and a lift over the road that is dark.

Whenever you want to paint anything, ask me:

"Which Du Pont Paint?"

Makes no difference what it is—perhaps it's the house itself, or perhaps it's enamel to brighten up the range in the kitchen, or maybe it's the baby's carriage, but whatever it is, there's a Du Pont Paint that's made just for that use—and I have it here.

I have a FULL line of Du Pont Paints, and I'll stake my reputation with you that they're the best of the 100 makes of paints in this country. Certainly they ought to be, for Du Pont has been in business for over a hundred years and has always been associated with the biggest and best enterprises in the country.

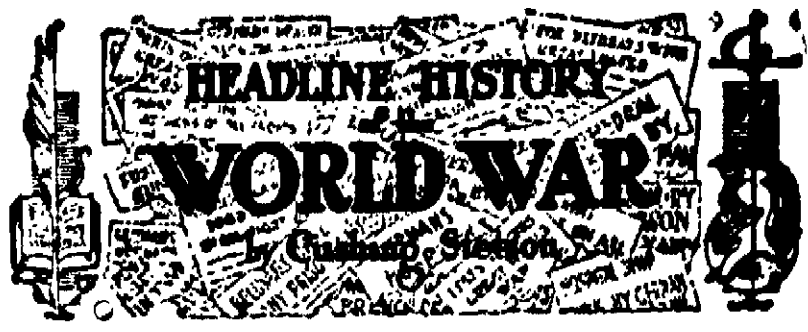

See me when you think of painting anything—and ask me "Which Du Pont Paint?" It will be the best there is.

N. Y. FARMS ARE RELATIVELY CHEAP

In proportion to the value of farm products New York farms are cheaper now than they have ever been. No exact figures are available but according to John B. Shepard of the United States bureau of crop estimates, the present value of the farms of the state is probably between 1 1/2 and 1 3/4 billion dollars. According to the estimates of nearly a thousand crop reporters the increase in value has been about 10% during the last year, perhaps 40 to 50 per cent during the last 10 years and about 60 per cent during the last 50 years. Since 1915 farm products have increased in value much more rapidly than has the land. The farms of the state are now worth not only about three and a third times as much as last year's crops. Before the world war the farms of the state were, in each census year, worth nearly six times as much as a year's crop. Probably never before, even in pioneer days, could a man buy a good farm in this state and make it pay for itself as quickly as is possible today, yet the movement of population is still away from the independent out-door life on the farms towards the higher wages, shorter working hours and better living conditions of the cities.

Oil Company Cuts Big Melon For Shareholders.

Denver, Colo., March 31.—A "melon" approximately $5,000,000, in the form of a stock dividend amounting to 200 per cent will be distributed to shareholders of the Continental Oil Company, a Colorado Corporation, next month. It became known here today. Each stockholder will receive two additional shares for every one now held. The stock had been paying a regular twelve per cent dividend annually and was quoted today at $550 per share.

Back From Long Voyage.

Ray Terwilliger of 21 Elmwood street has just returned from a five months trip aboard a vessel of the U. S. S. 12. About fifteen thousand miles were logged and the following ports touched: New York, Florida Keys, Galveston and Sabine, Tex., Norfolk, Va., Flores, Azores, Lisbon, Portugal, Gibraltar, Cadix, Spain; Benisaf, Africa; Bermuda and Baltimore. On two occasions the ship was nearly lost when breaking down in heavy weather: once 750 miles east of Cape Henry and again 900 miles southeast of Bermuda.

BUILDING WILL PROGRESS SLOWLY

Present conditions indicate that a large building movement which now seems inevitable in view of the housing shortage must be of slow and gradual growth. The National Bank of Commerce in New York declare in April number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly.

"The dearth of building supplies," the book continues, "is rendered more acute by difficulties of transportation. Some time must elapse before the various lines of industry which furnish these materials will be able to function at full capacity. Added to this is the difficulty, under present conditions, of financing new enterprises."

In summarizing the current market situation, the bank says:

"Fundamental business conditions have changed little from a month ago. The present price level requires a large volume of credit and capital for essential transactions. This, coupled with the fact that sound public policy requires a conservative use of bank credit, has resulted in an increasingly cautious attitude on the part of industry and commerce. Such an attitude is much to be commended. If it is reflected in a correspondingly conservative attitude on the part of the consumer and in earnest effort on the part of the producer, it may enable credit contraction to be effected without loss or shock until a normal basis is reached."

"Industry continues to be hampered by inefficient transportation. This is not a condition which can be materially aided by redistribution of cars but can be remedied only by the purchase of a large amount of new equipment and the heavy repairing of old. Although a number of railroads are now in the market for cars, cars and locomotives the buying movement has not yet reached large proportions. Extensive purchases on the part of the roads must wait the making of adequate financial plans. Some needs, however, such as the requirement of the retail shops are so urgent that buying of this kind cannot long be postponed."

BAPTISTS WILL ASSIST FRANCE

An appropriation of $300,000 has been made by the Northern Baptist convention to aid in the reconstruction work in France and this is but a preliminary to a more comprehensive program of improvement that the denomination has planned to carry out in that country through the aid of the 35 churches that the convention is already supporting in that country.

The Baptists are rendering generous assistance in rebuilding destroyed chapels and helping impoverished churches, and they hope to extend this work still further as a result of the $100,000,000 drive which they are to conduct in this country from April 25 to May 2 as a part of the new world movement.

The work of the Baptist churches throughout Europe has been seriously affected by the war, it is said. In Finland, Denmark and Russia contributions from America have been sent to small struggling churches. In Norway the denomination helps the weaker churches and also assists in maintaining a theological seminary. In Sweden the Baptist work is practically self supporting. There are according to the latest available reports, 1,212 Baptist churches in Europe, the largest number in any single country being 652 in Sweden, and the smallest, 7, being in Spain. The Baptists claim a total membership of 143,936 in Europe. A comparatively small proportion of the churches are self supporting.

"The Forward Movement is to be both extensive and intensive. It is to aim both at the conversion of the individual and a general advance in the enlightenment of the church given to the church by Jesus Christ."

The crusade will begin with the meeting at St. Louis at which representative leaders in the medical profession, social work, secretaries of anti-tuberculosis societies, government officials, and others will take part. The culmination of the crusade for 1920 will be in a united campaign for the support of all voluntary anti-tuberculosis associations, national, state and local, through the sale of a double-barred tuberculosis Christmas seal.

HIGHLAND CHURCH
STICKS TO SUN

Presbyterian Church Prefers Standard Time to Daylight Savings—General Mixup in Village Sunday.

Highland, March 31.—The church services in this village were thrown into a chaotic state Sunday by a mix-up between the old time and the time under the daylight saving plan. Some people presented themselves at the churches and Sunday schools one hour ahead of time while many others were one hour late.

When the question of deciding which schedule should be adopted for the services arose, the heads of both the Methodist and Presbyterian churches decided to stick to sun time.

Late Saturday night the town clock was set one hour ahead in accordance with the daylight saving plan.

Sunday morning the bell on the Methodist Church was rung under the daylight saving time, while the Presbyterian Church stuck solidly to the old time.

The Central team will close its season about April 12th, having a few games booked, some with teams of the New Jersey State League, at Hoboken and Newark.

PAMPHLET FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

In order to answer the innumerable questions as to insurance, compensation and allotments that come up from time to time, the Office of the Assistant to the Secretary of War, in charge of soldier reemployment and welfare, has issued a pamphlet designed to help ex-service men solve their individual problems. It is known as Bulletin No. 6, and may be had from Army, Navy and Marine recruiting offices, employment agencies, welfare organizations, public health officers, local posts of the American Legion, Army and Navy hospitals and chambers of commerce. This pamphlet will also be supplied free of charge to anyone who will address the Office of the Assistant to the Secretary of War, Council of National Defense Building, Washington, D. C.

In this booklet Government insurance for men who were in the service is fully explained—how premiums are to be paid after discharge; how present insurance is converted into the six different forms of permanent policies now provided; how lapsed policies are reinstated.

The more difficult subject of compensation is described. This is a government allowance paid to ex-service men and women for injury or disability in line of duty, and is entirely separate from any benefits of war risk insurance. The ex-soldier is shown how to apply for compensation through the United States Public Health Service or any American Legion post. The difference between compensation for temporary and permanent disability is described at length, and so-called partial permanent disability is well.

Considerable misunderstanding seems yet to exist among disabled service men on the subject of compensation when vocational training is undertaken. Compensation is not forfeited under vocational training. In no case can a man's money income from the government be diminished, and in some cases he may receive more. Its source may change, but its amount cannot be decreased.

Allotment problems are fully covered into and their solution made clear. The method of putting in a regular claim for unpaid allotments in the case of discharged men is explained. Allotments are of two kinds: one kind is paid by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance; the other by the Director of Finance. This is explained in detail and a very shortly the claims which ex-service men still have against the government.

In an army of 1,000,000 men there are many questions arising which cannot be answered in general terms. When special circumstances surround insurance, compensation or allotments, information may be obtained in specific cases from any chapter of the American Red Cross, or by addressing Lieutenant Colonel Matthew C. Smith, Office of the Assistant to the Secretary of War, Service and Information Branch, Council of National Defense Building, Washington, D. C., who will also supply copies of the pamphlet.

Frank A. Vanderlip

Frank A. Vanderlip, financier and former president of the New York National City Bank, who will shortly announce his intention to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from New York. It is expected that Mr. Vanderlip will announce his candidacy before sailing, at the head of a commission, to visit Japan. It is known that Mrs. Vanderlip, who is prominent in the League of Women Voters, has been trying for some time to persuade her husband to make the race.

Wolf Hunters Reap Harvest.

"Wolfs" are expert trappers and hunters who have developed a special aptitude for hunting wild animals. They are dead shots with rifle or revolver, and think nothing of crawling into a wolf's den with no other weapons than an iron bar and a hatchet. The iron bar being thrust into the wolf's mouth in case of attack and a blow with the hatchet ending the battle.

Hunters sometimes work for days excavating a wolf's den and may be rewarded by finding a litter of young wolves, every puppy counting a scalp and also bringing a high price in the fur market. Generally the killing is done in or near the wolf's den. The most effective work is done in the spring, when the wolf families are at their largest.

One wolf may cost a stockman about $1,000 a year in slaughtered cattle, so the men in the cattle business find it cheaper to hire good "wolfs" to hunt these animals. The "wolfs" while hunting wolves, have an opportunity of catching other fur-bearing creatures, the beaver being the only one strictly exempt by law against killing.

WILL EXPLORE BAFFIN LAND

Expedition Leaves Boston in July to Investigate Northern Region Never Hitherto Penetrated.

Secrets of Baffin Land, one of the portions of the Arctic still unexplored, will be the objective of the MacMillan expedition which is in preparation now for departure in the summer of 1921.

Although the region was visited several times before the Pilgrims crossed the Atlantic to Cape Cod, Baffin Land, from the point of view of explorers and scientists, is still one of the richest and most alluring fields of research in the North.

Its whole western shore, more than 1,000 miles in length, is but vaguely defined on the charts. Estimates have told wonderful tales of vast lakes and towering mountains in the interior, but white men have never visited that section. Its flora and fauna have never been studied; little is known of the movements of the tidal currents along its shores, and facts of geology, mineralogy and meteorology await the coming of scientific observers.

The party, headed by Donald MacMillan, the late Admiral Peary's lieutenant on the expedition that reached the north pole, plans to leave Boston about July 1, 1921, and to reach Baffin Land in less than a month, with good luck. The following winter will be spent on the western shore in latitude 69. The camp probably will be just south of the entrance of the dangerous Fury and Hecla strait, where the ships of Captains Parry and Lyon, seekers of a northwestern passage, were blocked a century ago. That is 160 miles north of the Arctic circle and 700 miles south of Etah, on the shore of northwestern Greenland, where MacMillan's Crockerland expedition passed four winters.

In the winter attempts will be made by dog teams to explore the coast northward and in the following summer the interior of the island will be penetrated. The plans for the expedition call for an absence of two years from this country. In case a longer stay is necessary, no relief expedition will be sent, according to present arrangements. If the ship is crushed in the ice, the party plans to retreat by dog teams to Fort Churchill, the trading post at the foot of Hudson bay and to return to civilization by way of northwestern Canada.

The MacMillan Arctic Association will back the expedition. It is composed of Bowdoin college alumni and other friends of the explorer.

New and Valuable Fertilizer.

"Nitrated peat" is the fertilizer produced by an Italian chemist from explosives containing ammonium nitrate. The explosive is placed in a measured amount of water, which dissolves out the nitrate, and after a short time is decanted as a saturated solution. This is mixed with peat powder and evaporated. The product contains about 45 per cent of ammonium nitrate, and has been shown to have fertilizing value nearly equal to that of sodium nitrate.

Street fighting in Berlin.

Fighting from behind a heavily erected street barricade on Frankfurt or Strasse, Berlin. German government troops held off attacking Spartacists in the fighting which followed the coup of Dr. von Kapp. Tanks were used by the government.

Part of the Game.

A referee has issued a complaint against the football club on whose grounds he was assaulted by several spectators who disagreed with his decisions. Although sympathizing with him we fear his attempt to run our national game of its most sporting element will not meet with general approval.—Punch, London.

What Courtesy Overlooks.

One way to make sure that you maintain amicable relations with your immediate neighbors is not to permit yourself to take advantage of their civility to you. There are always some things that you can learn about your neighbors that it is the part of courtesy to overlook.

Dog Highly Prized in Alaska.

Nowhere in the world has the dog such unrestricted rights of way as in Alaska. In winter, when more than 600,000 square miles of territory are sealed up in solid ice, dogs are almost the sole means of getting from place to place—in fact, they seem necessary to life. The aristocrats of Arctic dog life are the mail teams in the service of the United States government.

Kisses Were Secured.

Among old laws against kissing there is one that appears to have been the most severe. It forbade any man's wife, either with or without her consent, and the same punishment was enforced for kissing an unmarried woman against her will.

Your Big Left Foot.

Your left foot is larger than your right, by 30 cents out of 100. Science explains it in many ways, but we accept the easiest one, which is that we use a world of left-footed levers. We lean against posts and door jacks and we do most of our leaning on our left foot; consequently, through the years it has grown to support the weight that the left foot doesn't. The next time you buy shoes, have your left foot measured first.

Enough Ties to Feed World.

The last years of the world, it is calculated, could provide food for the year round for the population of the globe. Brazil was given to such production that thousands of tons of them are stored every year.

There are all kinds of cheap printing—but none of it is really cheap—at least not on a basis of value. Cheap stuff is usually worth almost what it costs. Our printing isn't the cheapest you can get, but it's as good as the best.

CHILDREN HAD COCOA EVERY DAY

Get Out at Lunch Time Prepared by Mothers of School No. 7 Parent-Teachers' Association—Give $5 to Rescue Relief.

At the business meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of School No. 7, Tuesday afternoon, the report of Mrs. M. H. Hornog, chairman of the committee serving cocoa at lunch hour, showed that cocoa was served every school day during January and February and for the three weeks in March. This undertaking is carried on by voluntary contributions and the work by mothers and friends of the school, one or two mothers being on hand each day to make and serve cocoa. The association and the children desire to express their appreciation to all who have in any way helped in this work. The association decided to give $5 toward the fund for eastern relief, and to go on record as being opposed to the bill to be introduced in the legislature which attempts to modify the law against children attending motion picture shows unaccompanied. The association is of the opinion that there is a need for a tightening up on the regulation.

In order to raise money for the state conference to be held here in the fall, a food sale will be held at the Carl millinery store on April 17. Superintendent Michael was introduced as the speaker and his talk concerning children and study was interesting and instructive. In attendance Miss Spader's room stands first, Miss Romney's second, and Miss Gorse's and Miss Holmes's tied for third.

Canadian Aborigines.
In round numbers the aboriginal population of Canada, consisting of Indians and Eskimos, is about 100,000, the Indians numbering 100,000 and the Eskimos a few more than 3,000. They are the descendants of the people who held all this north land when Cabot skirted the Labrador coast, and when Jacques Cartier sailed up the St. Lawrence. At that time the entire country was theirs over which to make war, and hunt, and lead their wretched existence. In the southern half of the Dominion all this is changed. It no longer contains roaming Indians. They live upon their reserves and to a considerable extent obtain a livelihood by following the white man's pursuits. They are learning to till the soil, to engage in commercial fishing, to labor in the lumber camps, and even to engage in trades.

Work of Census Takers.
Aircrafts were used by census takers enumerating the dwellers on the islands off the coast of Florida, and snowshoes were used in the northern states and in Alaska. Near Oswego, N. Y., an enumerator found the man of the family in an isolated farm dwelling sick and helpless, and stopped long enough to do the chores, dig out paths through the deep snow and put things in order before continuing his journey.

Yukon Crop Greater Than Mining.
In 1923 the famous Cripple Creek gold field yielded $14,253,000 worth of the precious yellow metal. That year all of the state of Colorado yielded $1,000,000 in gold. The 1923 crop of potatoes in the "barley district" of Kentucky will bring $75,000,000, more than ten times as much as the Cripple Creek gold field yielded in one of its bumper years, and within $16,000,000 of as much as the value of all the gold mines in the United States in 1923.

Confucius Great Sage.
The man whose memory has for 2,400 years crossed signal respect and honor in China was a sage, not a saint nor a founder of a religious faith. Confucius took the best of the various Chinese philosophies of his day and added a bit of his own, using as a basis five cardinal virtues—righteousness, intelligence, sincerity, politeness and discrimination of good. The wisdom of the Chinese sages as depicted the people that temples were built in his honor, his wise sayings were widely quoted and came to be taught in the Chinese schools.

ONLY DOGS TAGGED SO FAR

There are over 1,000 dogs owned in Kingston, and of that number but 200 have so far been tagged. The state and city authorities will make a very rigid investigation of the number of dogs in the city this year, and dog owners who have not obtained a license are liable to arrest and the imposition of a $10 fine in addition to being forced to take out a dog license or have the dog shot by the police. Those who have not obtained licenses should do so at once as the police will shortly start the work of tagging the dog canines.

Charles R. Crane

Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, newly appointed American Minister to China, snapped as he was leaving the White House after a conference with President Wilson. Mr. Crane will shortly sail for China to take up his new post.

Hunting Alaskan Bear.
The Alaskan bears have been hunted with perfect safety from boats among the coastal islands, and they are also comparatively easy to kill along the streams where they come in the fall to catch salmon. In this hunting the hunter lies in wait, and puts a bullet from a safe distance. But at that time of the year the fur is not prime. The true sportsman goes up into the mountains in the early spring, still-hunts his bear and kills him often at close quarters—unless he gets killed himself.

Product of Imported Material.
Despite the fact that although the buggy whip is manufactured exclusively in this country, all of the raw material from which it is made, excepting the thread, is imported. The whalebone used in its manufacture comes from the Arctic ocean, the taffan from the South Sea islands and the rawhide, which is made from the skin of the carabao, comes from the Philippine islands, or some other place where the climate is extremely warm.

Shakespeare's Greenwood.
Less than three hours' travel from dirty, busy London is the forest of Arden, which is hallowed in the minds of all who speak English by the fact that Shakespeare found in it the inspiration for his woodland scenes, and especially for the fantastically beautiful ones of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The great oaks under which his fairies danced still stretch out their branches over the shadow-lapped sward.

Unknown Influence.
The rhythmic law of nature made wide study. But we have collected enough evidence to show that body growth in children, body weight in adults, appetite for food, fitness for work, the recurrence of illness, periodic mental depression, tendency to crime, impulse to suicide, rise and fall of blood temperature, and falling in love are all influenced by a mysterious revelation.

BUILDING ASS'N IN HIGHLAND

Highland, March 20.—Plans are well under way for the organization of a co-operative building and loan association in this village. The date for the organization meeting has not as yet been set but it is believed that it will be some time this week or early next week.

Many subscriptions have already been received by prominent local business men who are interested in the project and it is assured that the proposition will be placed on a sound financial basis by the time it is ready for its official launching. Already the subscriptions total more than $30,000 and new amounts are coming in daily.

The urgent need for more houses has made itself felt in Highland as well as elsewhere, and in order to assist in meeting this demand, the plan for the organization of a co-operative building and loan association was inaugurated here. The object of the association will be to assist those who desire to build to do so in the quickest and easiest manner.

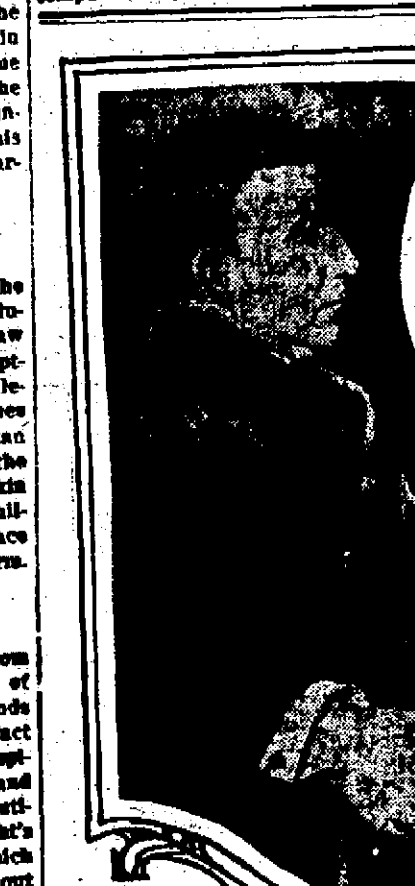

The details of the plan will be made public at the time of the organization meeting.

Riley Wins Verdict.

The action of John J. Riley against Peter Telepas of the Exchange hotel, Saugerties to recover $160 was tried before Justice H. D. Abeel and a jury, composed of Oliver Holden, William L. Snyder, Lewis Brandt of Saugerties, Wallace Dederick and Almeron Finger of Catsbaan and William Waldele of Churchland at the Town Hall on Monday. George F. Kaufman was attorney for Riley and Grant M. Brininger acted in similar capacity for Telepas. The trial which was based upon a claim for services rendered, and which Telepas denied were performed, lasted all day. The case reached the jury late in the afternoon and they were placed in charge of officer Victor L. Reynolds. After considering the evidence, the six men, good and true, rendered a verdict for $120 in favor of Riley.

Startling revelations involving high officials in the New York police department are expected following the sensational charges made by Police Inspector Dominick Henry against James E. Smith, assistant district attorney of New York city. Inspector Henry has made public six affidavits, some of which charged the assistant district attorney with alleged connivance with vice and gambling. Mr. Smith, in replying to the accusations, denied the charges in full and declared that he was about to ask the grand jury to indict the inspector for grafting. He added that the New York police department had never in its history been so rotten and crooked as it is now.

DEMOCRATS LEAN TOWARD MC ADOO

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, March 31.—A digest of the Democratic returns in the country-wide poll of daily newspaper editors taken by the International News Service, indicates today's trend to be:

For president, William Gibbs Mc-Adoo, of New York.

For vice president, Governor
James Cox, of Ohio.

Platform—Business administration with liberal leanings, including a general interpretation on the 18th amendment.

This fact is based upon facts and figures disclosed in the straw vote, in which not one, but every state in the union had fair representation.

The complete returns showed Herbert Hoover first, McAdoo second, Governor Cox third, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer fourth, Governor Edward J. Edwards (of New Jersey) fifth, and William Jennings Bryan sixth in the first choice balloting.

Hoover, however, has rendered himself ineligible. Thus eliminated from consideration by the Democrats, the party choice logically falls upon the next best in the race.
McAdoo, however, did not come second in the voting if the totals of the first, second and third choice are taken as indicating Democracy's selection rather than the first choice votes alone.

These totals put McAdoo first, with 224 votes, Hoover second, with 192, Palmer, third, with 152; Bryan fourth, with 95; Cox, fifth, with 78;
and Edwards, sixth, with 51 votes.

The signs seem equally to favor
Governor Cox for vice president.
First, in the first choice column he came next to McAdoo, running strong in almost every section of the nation.

Second, Democrats believe he can carry Ohio against the strongest Republican the opposition party can put up against him. This opinion is based upon the governor's past performances in that state being elected three times in succession in a section normally Republican.

Third, it is believed that he would carry Kentucky one of the doubtful states, and one which, it is claimed, would go Republican if Cox is not on the ticket.

RULES OFF, COAL
PRICES TO SOAR

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, March 31.—Soaring coal prices are expected to follow the lifting of government restrictions on coal prices tonight.

Within a few days coal prices will reach a level nearly equal to that of 1917, when prices were placed under the regulation of the fuel administration, according to those here who are in close touch with the coal trade.

The 27 per cent wage increase to the bituminous miners becomes effective tomorrow, and this fact coupled with the lifting of restrictions on prices is expected to advance bituminous coal prices from 50 cents to $2-a ton. Representatives of coal operators denied there would be any effort arbitrarily to increase coal prices and predicted that while prices may increase now they will fall back during the summer months.

"There will be an increase in prices," said George H. Cushing, secretary of the American Wholesale Coal Association, "but the sum of money that goes into the pocket of the producer and the wholesaler will not be greater than it has been before. The increase will go into the pocket of the miner under the higher wages that will be paid to him this year."

It is estimated that the wage increase which the miners will receive will total $200,000,000.
President Wilson has given warning that there must be no profiteering in coal and it is understood that he stands ready to resume federal control of the industry if prices become unreasonable.

New N. Y. Strike Factor.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, March 31.—An almost complete tieup of business of New York harbor is threatened today as a result of a controversy between New York fruit companies and the International Longshoremen's Association. This controversy is apart from the longshoremen's strike, now in progress. The union is objecting to the employment of non-union men on the fruit company's piers.

M. E. CONFERENCE
HERE NEXT WEEK

Three Hundred Ministers to Attend
Five Day Session at Which Important Matters Will Come Up—Kingston Pastors to Remain at Advanced Salaries.

The New York annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held in this city next week,
the sessions being held in the St.
James Church. A full program is given below of the main features of the doings of the conference. The laymen's meetings will be held in the Clinton Avenue Church on Friday morning and afternoon. Some of the anniversary services on the Sunday will be held in the other churches.
The bishop will preach at the St.
James Church on Sunday morning, and will conduct the ordination service at Trinity Church in the afternoon. At the latter church in the evening a temperance meeting will be held, to be addressed by Dr. Charlotte True Wilson of Washington, one of the best speakers of the kind in the country. That same evening the anniversary of the Sunday schools and Epworth League will be held in the Clinton Avenue Church, and that of the Freedmen's Aid Society will be held in the St. James Church.

Important matters will come up at this conference, such as the admission of laymen in the annual conferences. Greater interest is shown already in the delegates who will be selected to represent the body at the general conference to be held in May in Des Moines—the largest Protestant gathering in the world. Six ministers and six laymen will be elected from the New York conference.

Rumors concerning coming appointments are as yet mere guesses, and should be taken as such. The pastors in Kingston have been most cordially invited to return, salaries having been advanced, or to be advanced if they return. All of them are expected back by their respective churches, while no change is likely in the district superintendency, as the present incumbent has done admirable work.

The conference, which will last about five days, will be quite an event in our city. Its spirit of hospitality has not failed, for in spite of crowded conditions the three hundred ministers will be well taken care of by three Methodist Churches, whose pastors have untiringly labored for the comfort of all.

The program:

Luther B. Wilson, D. D., LL.D., presiding bishop

amination will begin on Tuesday, April 6, at 2 p. m., and will follow

aminers will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. In the inter-

PRINCE OF WALES VIEWS PANAMA

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Panama, March 31.—The Prince of Wales, who passed through the Panama Canal yesterday, en route from England to Australia, today expressed his wonder at this master engineering achievement.

The British battleship Renown, bearing the prince, stopped three hours at Culebra Cut while the royal party stood at the rail and watched the dredgers remove a giant boulder from the channel.

The American engineers did the blasting and dredging so expeditiously that all the ships which had been held up by the obstruction passed through before night.

While the Renown proceeded to Balboa, at the western entrance of the waterway to take on oil, the prince came ashore to pay his respects to President Leterre of Panama, Governor Harding of the Canal Zone and the British minister to Panama, Mr. Bennett.

A public reception was held at the Hotel Tivoli, at which the prince met many prominent residents.

The prince was right in his element this afternoon when he reviewed the West Indian volunteers who served with the allies overseas.

Luncheon was served on the Renown attended by many officials.
Tonight a reception will be given for the prince by President Leterre at the Union Club.

The Renown will sail for San Diego, Cal., tomorrow and will arrive there within a few days. The prince is reported by his companions to be anxious to see California, about which he has heard so much.

Service At Redeemer.

The Holy Week services will be continued this evening at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts street at 7:45 o'clock. The meditation will be on the "Fourth Word From the Cross." At this service the choir will render special music taken from Stainer's Crucifixion. The first number will be an anthem by the choir, "Fling Wide the Gates." The second a duet by Herman La Tour and Carl Pierson.
"So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition."

Baker Out For Season.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Baltimore, Md., March 31.—J.
Franklin Baker, former home-running and New York Yankee third baseman, will not play baseball with the New York American League team this season, nor will he consider overtures from any club to play this season, and this is final. Baker is reported to have reiterated from his home in Trappe, Md., today. Baker declared he deemed it his first duty to his children as they are young and without a mother's care and he felt they needed his care and attention.

Government Troops In Ruhr.

Both the Reds and the government troops under General Von Watter, in Westphalia, are preparing for further hostilities.

ed out Al Jordan in the seventh

British Republic Seen Fettered.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, March 31.—A three hour battle between an armed attacking force and British troops was reported from Skibbereen, Ireland, today. The military barracks near Skibbereen were heavily attacked, but after three hours of fighting, the attackers were
